General Course Information:

Course description: This course is designed to develop the student’s understanding of price determination and analysis in applied economics and agricultural markets. Economic processes of price discovery and price determination in agricultural input and output markets; emphasis on methods of price analysis and their application to decision processes; analysis of cyclical, trend and seasonal movements in prices.

Prerequisites: Grade of “C” or above in [AGEC 2003 and ECON 2030] or [ECON 2000 and ECON 2010] or equivalent; MATH 1431 or MATH 1550; and EXST 2201 or ISDS 2001.
Course objectives:

1. To apply economic theory to agricultural prices and agricultural markets in price estimation, discovery, and determination. Emphasis on marketing management and pricing in agricultural firms.

2. To explain the functions of prices and principles of supply and demand in price determination for agricultural products and markets. Statistical estimation of price and demand relationships.

3. To provide students with practical experience in conducting a market and price analysis undergraduate research project.

Learning Objectives:

After successful completion of this course, students should be able to

- Understand economic principles that determine prices in markets
- Gain knowledge of markets and factors that affect price determination
- Apply microeconomic theory to price determination
- Have a proper understanding of quantitative and statistical tools and methodologies employed in price determination and estimation

Course Material:

Main Readings:

- The Wall Street Journal (WSJ)
- Investor’s Business Daily (IBD)
- Lecture notes

Moodle

- Moodle is used for emails, announcements, course discussions, lecture notes, handouts, suggested exercises and respective solutions.
- To access Moodle you will need your Paws username and password. Should you have difficulties accessing Moodle, please visit https://grok.lsu.edu/Article.aspx?articleId=15076 and/or contact LSU Computing Help Desk at helpdesk@lsu.edu or call 578-3375.

Note that: Reading your book, lecture notes, and related handouts is imperative to benefit the most out of the course. You should expect to study a minimum of 2 hours/week to cover and comprehend course material. During exam weeks the time-commitment will be significantly higher.
Course Modules and Outline:

We will cover the following core topics. (The chapters listed below follow the recommended textbook)

1. Introduction to Price Analysis (ch1-3)
   - The role of prices in a market economy

2. Analyzing Price Trends (ch 4-5)
   - Economic theory
   - Introduction to simple linear regression

3. Cyclical Price Behavior (ch 6-7)
   - Economic theory of cycles
   - Estimation of simple cycle models
   - Price forecasting

4. Seasonal Price Behavior (ch 8)
   - Economic theory

5. Equilibrium Analysis (ch 9-13)
   - Supply analysis revisited
   - Demand analysis revisited
   - Linear regression

6. Applications of Equilibrium Analysis (ch 14)
   - Marketing Margins
   - International Trade Analysis

7. Agribusiness Forecasting
   - Business Forecasting Methods

Thorough breakout of the course modules will be found on Moodle. Please make sure you keep up with the modules and the respective announcements.

The instructor reserves the right to change the material, the chapters, and the respective sequence as appropriate. Any changes will be communicated timely in class, via the Moodle e-mail list serve, and via Moodle. It is the student’s responsibility to stay informed and updated of any changes.
Evaluation of Performance and Grading:

Grades: Your grade will be determined based on your performance on the exams administered during the course. Your final grade for AGEC 4273 will be based on the following:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade components</th>
<th>Description</th>

Exams (40%)

In Class Exams: starting at 10:30am

Points: 80 potential points per exam

Format: Multiple-choice, T-F, problem-solving and/or short-answer questions.

Content: Material covered in class, from the book, or concepts implied by the material covered. Each exam will be based on specific sections covered in class within the respective time-period (i.e. no cumulative, though concepts are transferable and more than one ways to approach exam questions may be possible).
Missed exam policy: There are NO “excused” exams. Should you miss one of the in-class exams, you will receive a zero for that exam. A makeup can only be administered under a University acceptable excuse.

For students missing an in-class exam the final will be mandatory.

Exam day policy:

- It is expected that all students are on-time to take the exam. Please arrive early, if possible, to get seated and get your books/bags stowed away so that the exam can start on the stated-time.
- You may leave the class after 30 minutes.
- NO ONE WILL BE ALLOWED TO ENTER THE CLASSROOM TO BEGIN THE EXAM AFTER THE FIRST STUDENT HAS TURNED IN THEIR FINISHED EXAM
- Exams are closed book and closed notes.
- A simple calculator may be used. Not acceptable are the following items: graphing calculators and calculators with more than one display rows, cell phones, touch-screen devices, or other devices with the capability of storing formulae.

Exceptions
1. Illness

   Should you miss an exam due to a serious, physician documented illness please contact the instructor by email prior to attending the next class period if a medical excuse will be used to take a makeup exam. The physician’s medical excuse on office letter-head must be received by the instructor prior to the student attending the next class period so that a makeup date can be arranged. Failure to follow this policy will terminate any opportunity to take a makeup exam.

2. Religious Holiday Observance

   Any student who must miss any regularly scheduled exam due to religious holiday observance need to inform the instructor within the first three days after the drop/add period ends.

   Automobile problems, family obligations, alarm clock malfunctioning, a sore throat, a severe cold, work requirements, vacation trips, job interviews, etc. do not warrant an excused absence.

The Final exam is comprehensive

Points: 80 potential points

Format: Multiple-choice questions.

Content: Cumulative. Material covered throughout the semester.

Exam day policy: Same with In-class exams.

Exam Date: Friday, May 6 2016 @ 10:00-12:00pm

The Final Exam is scheduled by the registrar’s office and no early or late Final exams will be administered.

Important Notes:

- You cannot drop the final exam. Should you decide to take the final, the grade you will receive will count towards your course grade. The lowest in-class exam grade will be dropped.
- For students missing an in-class exam the final becomes mandatory.
- Students not taking the final exam will receive a 0 for that exam.
Course Activities (20%)

Homework problems: Homework problems will be assigned at a regular basis throughout the semester. There will be 5 assignments turned in for credit each worth 20 points. They are assigned to assist you in learning the material and are highly related to exam questions and hence to your performance in the course. The lowest score will be dropped, so a total of 80 possible points will count towards your course grade. These are individual assignments and will be treated as such!

</tr>
<tr>
<td>HW4</td>
<td>April 4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>HW5</td>
<td>April 14</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Note that the due dates may change depending on the material covered in class.

Assignments are due before class starts. Since you are allowed to drop one assignment, late submission is not accepted though early submission is encouraged.

Project (30%)

Students will work in groups (2-3 students per group) for this project. A short description can be found below.

Topic: An agribusiness newsletter analyzing the stock prices of publicly traded agribusiness companies (these stock prices are referred to as Adjusted Closing Prices-ACP\(^1\)- or prices of agricultural commodities. Each group will have the same topic (e.g. seed companies) but each student will work on a separate company/commodity/organization.

Objective: To study the behavior of ACPs/commodities and their respective (stock) prices
- Write a descriptive statistical analysis
- Analyze volatility
- Study seasonality and forecast seasonal prices
- Analyze trends
- Discuss business cycles
- Conduct a comparative analysis

Project components include:
- Project Proposal (due February 4\(^{th}\))
  Within the first 3 weeks of class each group will submit a class project proposal.
- Final Project (due April 22\(^{nd}\))
- Presentations (April 26\(^{th}\), and 28\(^{th}\))

\(^1\) ACPs can be downloaded from finance.yahoo.com
Attendance/ Lab Sessions/ Participation (10%)

Students are expected to attend class and to be in class on-time. Given the nature and the quantity of material covered in class, regular attendance is a pre-requisite for performing well in this course.

Attendance is essential.
- Please notify me if you will be missing class.
- Attendance checks will be conducted regularly.
- Extra credit points may be offered during class periods; you must be present to earn any extra credit points offered.
- Failure to notify the group members for missing group meetings can carry grade penalties.
- Students who expect some conflict with their ability to be present in class should contact the instructor immediately prior to the drop/add period.

Students can earn up to 40 points through class activities. That includes but is not limited to:
- discussion sessions
- problem solving handouts
- lab session exercises
- exam reviews.

Based on the nature of the activity students may be given prior notification. As always, attendance is essential.

Grading Policy

Note that: Assignments, and Exams will be returned to you in class and grades will be posted in a timely-fashion on Moodle. You must retain all returned papers in case of any discrepancy with your course grade. We cannot correct any mistakes in grading or recording of scores without the original document.

IMPORTANTLY! You have 7 days after the grade has been posted to voice your concern. Should you believe that your exam/assignment is incorrectly graded or that your grade is incorrectly posted, please contact me as soon as possible. After the 7 days have passed, your posted grade will be assumed to be correct and accurate. Should you ask for a re-grade, please note that the entire assignment/exam will be reviewed for accuracy.

Professional Etiquette

The following guidelines are expected to be followed in order to have a productive classroom environment:
- CELLULAR PHONES are expected to be turned off. No texting or any other use of cellular phones is permitted or tolerated in class. So please take a moment to turn-off your devices before the class begins.
You should also discontinue the use of any iPods, and tablets or similar devices unless indicated by the class activity of the day. Previous notification will be given to you in that event.

Students are expected to be on-time for class.

You should avoid talking amongst each other once the lecture begins unless otherwise stated (i.e. part of a classroom-activity/assignment). If you have any questions during class, please raise your hand and I will be happy to address any concerns you may have.

You should avoid reading other course material or any type of newspaper during the class.

Failure to abide by these simple courtesy rules is considered disrespectful to me and your fellow student and you may be asked to leave the classroom. In that event Dr. Bampasidou reserves the right to account the student as absent.

Supplemental Information:

LSU Supporting Services: College life can sometimes being overwhelming. Resources are available on-campus to help students manage personal issues or gain insight into career and academic goals. Some of them are:

- Student Health Center: http://www.shc.lsu.edu/index.html
- Career Center: http://students.lsu.edu/careercenter
- Disability Services: http://students.lsu.edu/disability

Academic Integrity and Academic Misconduct:

Academic dishonesty is defined as any behavior, active or passive, which attempts to subvert the legitimate teaching, learning, or testing of a subject. It includes, but is not limited to the following:

- cheating on an examination, using notes or other methods;
- assisting or allowing another student to cheat on an examination;
- submission of work that is not the authentic creation of the student (plagiarism, use of purchased term papers, etc.);
- providing false excuses for missing a scheduled examination;
- enabling the cheating or other academic dishonesty of another student;
- altering an examination after it has been graded to claim a better grade is deserved;
- obtaining examinations in advance of the scheduled exam, unless offered by the professor;

Students are required to know and abide by Louisiana State University's Policy on Academic Integrity and Academic Misconduct, which prohibits dishonesty in academic work. For more information please visit the webpage "LSU Code of Student Conduct", http://students.lsu.edu/saa/students/code

It is in your best interests to avoid even the appearance of any questionable behavior.
Disability Statement: The University is committed to making reasonable efforts to assist individuals with disabilities in their efforts to avail themselves of services and programs offered by the University. To this end, Louisiana State University will provide reasonable accommodations for persons with documented qualifying disabilities. If you have a disability and feel you need accommodations in this course, you must present a letter to me from Disability Services in 115 Johnston Hall, indicating the existence of a disability and the suggested accommodations.

Diversity Statement:

Diversity is fundamental to LSU's mission and the University is committed to creating and maintaining a living and learning environment that embraces individual difference. Cultural inclusion is of highest priority.

LSU recognizes that achieving national prominence depends on the human spirit, participation, and dedicated work of the entire University community. Flagship: 2020 will be realized by bringing together diverse ideas, perspectives, skills, and talents of the nation's pre-eminent scholars, brightest students, and leading higher education professionals.

Through it's Commitment to Community, LSU strives to create an inclusive, respectful, intellectually challenging climate that embraces individual difference in race, ethnicity, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, age, spirituality, socio-economic status, disability, family status, experiences, opinions, and ideas.

LSU proactively cultivates and sustains a campus environment that values open dialogue, cooperation, shared responsibility, mutual respect, and cultural competence-- the driving forces that enrich and enhance cutting edge research, first-rate teaching, and engaging community outreach activities.

By enrolling in this course you are agreeing to the terms outlined in this syllabus.
Please see me should you have any questions.
Disclaimer: The instructor reserves the right to update/change the syllabus provided I notify you for the changes well in advance. Adequate accommodations will be provided should a conflict arise.

Advising Notes:

- Work in groups with caution. Avoid relying too heavily on group efforts as it typically leads to a false sense of security and may result in poor exam performance.
- Keep pace with class material. We will cover a lot of material in just a semester so attendance is crucial for a good performance in the course and understanding of the material.
- Ask questions. Be sure that if you have a question related to class material, most likely another of your fellow students will have a question. Some of the best lecture sessions start with a question.
- Take advantage of instructor office hours. We are here to help you!
- Worry about your grade during the semester not at the end of the semester, after all your performance during the whole semester is reported in your grade. Proper time management is key in college.

Let’s experience a rewarding and productive semester!
