LSU, the flagship institution in the state, reports to the Board of Supervisors of Louisiana State University and Agricultural and Mechanical College. The Board of Supervisors is established by Article 8, Section 7, of the Louisiana Constitution and is granted authority and responsibility to supervise and manage the institutions, statewide agricultural programs, and other programs administered through its system.

The University is administered by the LSU System Office, which also oversees 10 other institutions as well as 10 public hospitals located throughout the state.

A listing of Web sites for the Board of Supervisors, the University System, and LSU administrative offices is available below.
