

School of Human Resource Education & Workforce Development

January 12, 2010

Dear Student:

The School of Human Resource Education and Workforce Development in the College of Agriculture at Louisiana State University is currently accepting applications for the Charlie M. Curtis scholarship. Before retiring in 1984, Dr. Curtis served as both the Director of the School of Human Resource Education and Workforce Development and Associate Dean of the College of Agriculture at LSU. This scholarship serves to commemorate Dr. Curtis's dedication to teaching and learning in Career and Technical Education (CTE). Two deserving students each will be awarded a $500 scholarship contingent on enrolling in a CTE area including Agriscience Education, Business Education, Family & Consumer Sciences Education, Marketing Education, and Technology Education, at LSU. The application deadline is March 5, 2010.

Eligible students must meet the following criteria:

- a graduating high school senior or college student planning to transfer to the School of Human Resource Education and Workforce Development at LSU
- hold a 2.5 grade point average using a 4.0 scale
- actively involved in a CTE youth organization (DECA, FBLA, FCCLA, FFA, or TSA)
- provide evidence of financial need
- have submitted an application to enroll in Human Resource Education and Workforce Development in the College of Agriculture at LSU for the fall 2010 semester
- remain enrolled in Human Resource Education and Workforce Development in the College of Agriculture at LSU for the spring 2011 semester

Along with the three page application, the student must also submit a copy of their high school transcript and a letter of recommendation from their high school CTE instructor. Transfer students must also provide a copy of their college transcripts. All documents must be emailed, faxed or postmarked before the application deadline. Any questions should be sent to Dr. Curt Friedel by phone 225-578-2108, or email cfriedel@lsu.edu. All documents should be sent to:
