COURSE OBJECTIVE:
This course will introduce students to the principles, institutions and processes of the American political system. This knowledge will provide a foundation enabling students to better understand and critically evaluate our form of government. Specifically, this course is designed to familiarize students with political behavior and its relationship to the executive, legislative, and judicial functions of government. Students also will be introduced to the bureaucracy responsible for administering social welfare, regulatory, foreign, economic, and fiscal policies.

GENERAL EDUCATION OBJECTIVES:
This course also fulfills three hours of the social science general education requirement. As such, it aims to address in a sustained way the different levels of association, from friends and family, to economy and polity, even to civilizations of global significance; The patterns by which societies organize how people relate not only to each other but to the world around them, ranging from relations to their physical environment to relations to the divine. Students completing the course will be expected to demonstrate an understanding of the informing factors of global interdependence, including economic forces, political dynamics, and cultural and linguistic difference.

REQUIRED TEXTS:

Karen O'Connor, American University
Larry J. Sabato, University of Virginia
Alixandra B. Yanus, High Point University

ISBN-10: 0205950035
Publisher: Pearson
Copyright: 2014
Format: Paper Bound Book w/ Pin; 672 pages

Students can elect to purchase a printed copy at the bookstore of the O'Connor and Sabato text which will have an access code to the required supplement – Mypoliscilab. Students may also purchase the electronic version of the text which will also include access to Mypoliscilab. If you purchase a used copy of the book you will need to purchase an access code separately to Mypoliscilab. If you choose to buy the book electronically with no hard copy, the least expensive option is to buy directly from www.mypoliscilab.com.

REQUIRED SUPPLEMENT: Mypoliscilab. The access code to Mypoliscilab comes with NEW textbooks. Students purchasing used texts will have to purchase the Mypoliscilab separately. This can be done directly from www.mypoliscilab.com. See the instructions under “Accessing your Mypoliscilab” on your Moodle course page. Once you obtain access you will be asked to enter the Course ID (haynie92001) and Course Name (POLI 2051 Introduction to American Government).
COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

Students must read the textbook, complete the on-line multimedia assignments, and take three exams. The third exam is NOT cumulative. The reading assignments come from the chapters of the textbook. All of the multimedia assignments are found on Mypoliscilab. You must read the chapters, take the Moodle chapter quizzes, complete the multimedia assignment and take the Moodle multimedia quizzes by the dates noted on the syllabus. After reading each chapter and completing the multimedia assignments, you will then take the chapter quiz and/or multimedia quiz IN Moodle by the dates noted on the syllabus. Mypoliscilab also has a number of helpful study aids that I would recommend, including flashcards and additional video and interactive assignments.

Quizzes on the chapters and on the multimedia assignments will be equal to 30 points. The syllabus quiz, and each chapter quiz is worth 1 point and each multimedia assignment is worth 1 point. Students can complete the assignments ahead of time; however, chapter quizzes and on-line multimedia assignments MUST BE COMPLETED by 9:30 am on the dates listed on the syllabus. For example, the Chapter 5 Civil Rights quiz is due by 9:30 am June 24. Because students may encounter technical difficulties that require assistance, I urge you to begin the assignments SOONER RATHER THAN LATER. You can take the quiz as often as you like to improve your grade UP TO the time listed on the syllabus. The quizzes listed for June 10-14 will actually close at 9:30am on June 17 to allow you time to get the text and to get acclimated to mypolicilab and Moodle. All other quizzes close on the date listed on the syllabus.

In addition, three exams of equal weight (50 points each) will be administered. The final examination will not be cumulative. Students will have a 23 hour and 55 minute window to take the first two exams as noted on the syllabus below. For example, the first exam’s window begins at 12:00am on June 26 and continues to 11:55pm on June 26. The exam will consist of 50 questions and students will have only one attempt and only 30 minutes to take the exam during the test window. This means that you may select any 30-minute window between 12:00am on June 26 and continues to 11:55pm on June 26 to take the first exam. Please be extremely careful when taking the exams – you will not be allowed any additional chances. I encourage you to ensure that you have secure computer access. Wireless access can sometimes be unreliable. Should you lose wireless access during your exam you will not be allowed to repeat it. For the final exam you will have a 24-hour window (12:00am July 31 through 11:55pm July 31). You will need to listen to the Power Point lectures which will prepare you for the exams. While reading the chapters, the chapter quizzes, and completing the multimedia assignments will also help prepare you for the exams, the majority of the material on the test will come DIRECTLY from the Power Point lectures. While you may use your notes and textbook, you have only 30 minutes. IF YOU DO NOT STUDY IN ADVANCE it will be impossible for you to do well. It will not be feasible to look up each of the questions in the text or your notes in the time constraint set. Please do not learn this lesson the hard way. Many students inevitably think because it is open book they do not have to study as hard, and routinely students do badly on the first exam. However, students who study hard prior to the exam do well. Makeup exams will not be given unless the instructor is notified in advance and agrees the absence is a university excused absence according to PS-22. Makeup examinations are all essay comprised of 20 identifications and 10 short answer essay questions and no notes or text or other ancillary study aids are allowed. Students will be required to come to my office, 230 Stubbs, to take their make-up examination. Your final grade is computed from the SUM of the three tests and the on-line assignments as follows:

162-180 = A
144-161 = B
126-143 = C
108-125 = D
Below 107 = F
