team excavate the grave site of which served as a precursor of the James Smith, “Water speciation and properties of hydrous model basalt melt at high pressure;” For more information on the Dean’s Circle, please contact Adrian Owen, To donate online go to www.lsufoundation.org/givetoscience.

The Dean’s Circle (DC) is a loyal group of alumni and friends who make annual gifts The DC provides the working capital needed to increase the number and quality of students enrolling in and completing STEM The LSU Center for Computation and Technology, Department of Physics & Astronomy, and the Center for Computation and Technology (CCT), was honored with more than 100 International Mathematicians theory automorphic forms, and applications. Plenary speakers included Abel prize winners Jean-...