Since its founding in 2008, LSU First Year Experience (FYE) has been dedicated to providing the resources students need to have a successful transition, both academically and socially, to life at LSU. The first year is a crucial time for student development. FYE supports the transition and development of students through interactive programs, outreach, promoting resources, involvement and campus inclusion to make students’ first year an unforgettable experience.

Each year, FYE kicks off the start of the fall semester by hosting LSU’s official welcome week, Bengal Bound. In 2015, Bengal Bound consisted of a record-breaking 70 campus-wide events and activities all designed to help students learn more about the campus atmosphere and resources.

Prior to Bengal Bound, FYE hosts STRIPES. STRIPES is a four-day, three-night program that acquaints students with the history and traditions of LSU, as well as prepares them for the transition to college. At STRIPES, students learn what it really means to be an LSU Tiger.

Throughout the school year, FYE hosts signature programs to offer continuous resources and opportunities for students to get involved. Every first Friday of the month, FYE hosts First Fridays. At First Fridays, students enjoy free breakfast and have the chance to meet FYE’s staff, as well as other first year students.

At the beginning of the year, students are assigned staff contacts based on the first letter of his or her last name. Students are encouraged to meet with his or her designated staff member for a strategy session. During strategy sessions, students are given answers to their questions, given resources on how to get involved and find their place on campus.

The program Tiger Transition Team (T3) matches first year students with an upper level peer mentor to help students learn the culture of campus from a student’s perspective. T3 also provides students with an anytime peer contact for when they need immediate assistance.

In addition, FYE hosts Seaux Stressed, once a semester to help students destress before midterms. Seaux Stressed provides students with a healthy outlet for relieving stress, as well as teaches students the best ways to cope with stressful midterms and how to manage their time.

At FYE we are looking forward to welcoming the class of 2020 to campus in the fall of 2016. For more information about FYE, the resources we offer or our programs, please visit lsu.edu/fye, connect with us on social media or stop by 128 Johnston Hall.
FIRST YEAR EXPERIENCE

LSU First Year Experience is a department within the Division of Student Life and Enrollment that provides the resources and support first year students need to succeed. FYE facilitates a positive transition to LSU through programs that enhance the student experience. Programs provide freshmen and transfer students with the resources they need to make their first year at LSU an unforgettable experience.

STUDENT ENGAGEMENT
Overall, First Year Experience completely overhauled and revised our programming model. Instead of a large number of smaller programs, FYE focused on a handful of larger programs each semester. This new approach was met with positive feedback and success, including a significant increase in attendance and student engagement at our programs.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA
First Year Experience co-advised the National Honor Society for First-Year Students. ALD is an honor society for students who have maintained a 3.5 or higher GPA and are in the top 20% of their class during their first year.

BENGALS BEYOND THE BAYOU
This programming series is designed specifically for the first year out of state and international students. The series kicked off during Bengal Bound with What’s the Big Deal About Jambalaya and continued throughout the fall and spring semesters. The programs connect the students with each other, faculty/staff, LSU, and Louisiana.

FALL HARVEST
This social program provided students an opportunity to celebrate their fall semester and Halloween. Students participated in a costume contest, painted pumpkins, watched a popular Halloween movie, and also visited the 13th gate haunted house downtown.

FIRST FRIDAYS
This initiative was revised to be a breakfast in the lobby of Johnston Hall on the first Friday of every month. This allowed students an opportunity to not only connect with our staff, but also the office itself since we’re not in the “regular footprint” of the student. These breakfasts were used as an informal opportunity to get feedback from our students.

FIRST YEAR FINANCES
This programming series offered 5 programs during the fall semester to assist students in understanding positive financial management and fiscal responsibility while in college. First Year Finances is coordinated in collaboration with the Student Financial Management Center.

SAUCE
First Year Experience co-advised this organization designed to assist current undergraduate students interested in pursuing a career in Student Affairs. The program paired students with a mentor currently working in the field. Additional activities included bi-weekly meetings to discuss various issues/hot topics in Student Affairs, graduate school program presentations, assessment project, and visit to Southern University to learn about their Student Affairs Division.

SEAUX STRESSED
This program was first offered in the fall semester to provide students a “come and go” type opportunity to take a break from midterms, take a study break, or de-stress after a big exam. The initiative included other departments and organizations from around campus that provided resources and support around stress management (ex. Center for Academic Success, University Recreation). The event included pet therapy dogs, stress ball making, trivia, and more. It was so successful, the program was continued for the spring semester as well.

SOPHOMOREGOLD
SophomoreGOLD is coordinated in collaboration with Residential Life. Several programs were offered throughout the academic year for second year students to connect with each other, faculty/staff, and explore career options.

TASTE OF HOME
FYE showcased popular food items from around the country to give our out of state students a “little taste of home” mid-semester. This program took place in the on campus dining halls during lunch and dinner and was a collaboration with the Dining.

“We ensure students have an unforgettable and successful first year at LSU.”

SOCIAL MEDIA

Engaging Students Beyond the Campus:

At FYE it is our goal to connect with students and provide them with the resources needed to succeed at LSU. Through social media, FYE is able to offer support to students at anytime, as well as keep them engaged and aware of the events taking place on campus.

In addition to being present on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram, this year FYE has given students a closer look at our programs and resources by launching Snapchat. Also in 2015, FYE launched a new digitally interactive program, #AskFYE Google Hangouts, which are a live broadcasts of panelists from different LSU departments answering the questions students have about the University. During each broadcast, students had the opportunity to watch live and chime in with any questions they had for the panelists. The topics for this year included: Parking, You Have Questions, We’ve Got Answers and Scheduling.

Transfer students make up an important part of the student body at Louisiana State University and bring with them diverse experiences and strengths that enrich the LSU community. Transfer Student Programs (TSP) offers resources to help transfer students connect, engage, and thrive as LSU students.

LSU Veteran and Military Student Services is committed to easing the transition to the university environment for veterans, reservists, guardsmen, and active military. Programs, outreach, and individual appointments are available to ensure veterans have the necessary support to graduate and the means to pursue personal and professional goals, explore new learning experiences, and get involved on campus and in the community.

TRANSFER LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE
Transfer Student Programs hosted a leadership institute for Spring 2015 that offered a semester long series of engagement for transfer students. Transfer students were able to participate in the UREC challenge course, discover academic success initiatives available at LSU and network through a variety of events.

TIGER TRANSITION TEAM (T3)
The Tiger Transition Team provided first year students an opportunity to be assigned a student mentor during their fall semester of 2014.

“We’re dedicated to helping students find their place, thrive and succeed at LSU.”

“We serve veterans and service members as they pursue a new mission: obtaining a college degree.”

Assessment | Family Banana Split Party | Monthly Email | Parent Orientation Leaders | New in 2014 | Social Media | LSU Family Weekend

Parent and Family Programs is dedicated to helping families transition to the University and offering opportunities for families to more closely partner with LSU throughout their student’s experience.

ASSESSMENT
Utilized Campus Labs to assess all Family Orientation programs, Family Weekend, and Parent Orientation Leader Learning Outcomes.

FAMILY BANANA SPLIT PARTY
During Move in Day on Thursday, August 20, 2014, Parent & Family Programs hosted a Family Banana Split Party for families to have a chance to cool off, mingle with other families and enjoy time with their son/daughter before it was time to “split.” This event was held in each of the dining halls on campus to coincide with the President’s lunch for all students and their families.

The event was extended to 11:00 am – 3:00 pm to reach more families and accommodate the staggered move in schedule.

Promoted the LSU Family Association with an information table and LSU Family Weekend with “Save the Date” giveaways.

MONTHLY EMAIL
Continued to send electronic monthly email updates to LSU families which highlight services and programs of departments across campus.

Over 21,000 LSU family members are currently subscribed to the Parent & Family Programs email list.

NEW IN 2014
Family Weekend T-shirts were offered for the first time and were a huge hit with the families.

Parent & Family Programs collaborated with campus departments to host more events during Family Weekend. Six departments offered events on Friday including open houses, ice cream socials, tours of their facilities and meet and greets with departmental staff.

Parent & Family Programs staff re-established a relationship with the Tiger Athletic Foundation to have families allowed to attend the TAF Tailgate in the PMAC prior to the football game. This allowed them access to see the LSU Cheerleaders, Golden Band from Tigerland up close and personal.

More than 50 door prizes were donated and given out during the Jazz Brunch.

PARENT ORIENTATION LEADERS
In November, Parent & Family Programs selected Drake Boudreaux to serve as the Head Parent Orientation Leader. Drake is a former Orientation Leader and was the first non-POL to serve as HPOL. During the spring, the POL Team was selected and included 1 freshman, 5 sophomores, 2 juniors and 2 seniors.

Parent Orientation Leaders participated in training every Thursday evening for six weeks to prepare to work with parents at Spring Invitational. They also had their first ever over-night retreat.

SOCIAL MEDIA
Facebook currently has 5090 parents who “like” the page.

Twitter currently has 1856 followers and continues to grow.

The LSU Family blog currently has 197 subscribers. The average page views per day have remained consistent at approximately 30 views per day and the average page views per month is 2,000.

LSU FAMILY WEEKEND
Parent & Family Programs hosted the annual LSU Family Weekend on September 26-28, 2014. Over 2450 family members were on campus for a weekend of activities, programs, and the chance to see the LSU Tigers play a home football game under the lights of Tiger Stadium. Family Weekend activities allowed parents and families to reconnect with the university and enjoy the campus energy on game day.

HIGHLIGHTS
- This is the largest number of attendees to date since Family Weekend began in 2008.
- Of the 727 families preregistered, 543 were from out of state and 583 families were attending for the first time. Families of students from all classifications were represented including 315 families of freshmen, 95 families of sophomores, 51 families of juniors and 42 families of seniors.
- The Family Association Council hosted the third annual Silent Auction during Family Weekend and raised $4,350 for the Student Life Emergency Support Fund.
- More than 50 door prizes were donated and given out during the Jazz Brunch.

“We connect parents and families to LSU and their students throughout their time at the University.”
The Family Association is dedicated to helping families with their transition into the University and offering support, information, and problem solving throughout a student’s career at LSU. The Family Association provides opportunities for parents or guardians to become partners with the university in the educational experiences of their students, in the spirit of LSU.

FAMILY ASSOCIATION

Calendar

Created the 2014-15 academic wall calendar which was distributed to all new Family Association members.

180 calendars were sold to older Family Association members who received the initial calendar in their membership packet.

LSU Incoming Student Send-Off Parties

A collaborative effort between Enrollment Management, LSU Alumni Chapters, & LSU Family Association Members; these events provided incoming students and parents an opportunity to meet other people in their area, alumni in the area, and university administration. Events were held in Houston, Dallas and Atlanta.

Student Life Emergency Support Fund

Created the 2014-15 academic wall calendar which was distributed to all new Family Association members.

Over 500 Family Association members enjoyed this event and received thank you gift bags from the Family Association.

Family Association Council

Fall meeting was held in newly built LSU Olinde Career Center, which the Family Association contributed financially to and included a tour of the new facility. The Family Association Council members also had the opportunity to watch pre-game warm ups from the sidelines for the LSU vs. New Mexico State game.

Highlights

- Spring meeting was held in the Lawton Room and featured guest speakers from the Cox Communications Academic Center for Student Athletes and the LSU Alumni Association.
- During the spring meeting, Juan and Joanna Carrillo were recognized for their service as outgoing co-chairs of the Council and Kevin and Tracy Ferguson were introduced as the incoming co-chairs.

Family Orientation Council Lunches

Incorporated a luncheon within Spring Invitation and Summer Orientation sessions to recruit individuals to join the LSU Family Association Council.

Recruitment

Membership in the Family Association increased by 7.56 percent by raising additional revenue and representing close to a quarter of the freshman class.

Tiger Talk Fundraising

During the spring semester the Family Association raised $15,000 during the Tiger Talk Fundraising Campaign.

This is a decrease in the amount of funds from previous years.

Scholarships

2014-15 Family Association Scholarship recipients were recognized at a breakfast with their families and the Family Association Council during Family Weekend. They also were recognized on the field of the LSU vs. New Mexico State game between the 1st and 2nd quarter.

During the spring semester, the LSU Family Association held its annual application and selection process for the Family Association Scholarships. Due to generous donations from Family Association members during the 2014 spring Tiger Talk Campaign, the Family Association was able to award twenty $1,000 scholarships for the 2015-16 academic year.

These recipients will be honored during the 2015 Family Weekend.

Sponsorship

Collaborated with Student Government to sponsor the Holiday Shuttle which transported students to and from the New Orleans and Baton Rouge airports during the Thanksgiving and Winter Breaks.

Statistics

Increased membership in the Family Association by 7.56%, raising additional revenue and representing close to a quarter of the freshman class.

Mission

Lead families to university services and resources to continue to support their students

Support student success and help promote the University’s goal to retain students through financial support of programs and scholarships made possible through development and fundraising efforts.

Uphold the values of continued family involvement by planning programming to connect families to the university throughout the year.

“The Family Association allowed me to share the LSU experience with my Tiger.”
The primary objective of the Office of Orientation is to develop outstanding orientation programs and activities in conjunction with other campus departments that prepare students and parents to adjust successfully to their new environment.

LSU AMBASSADORS

What we do:
Our mission as LSU Ambassadors is to aid and represent the University by recruiting, orienting, and advising students and parents, conducting ourselves as role models, and presenting a positive impression of LSU. We will strive to become the best individuals possible and to inspire others to achieve. We hold ourselves to the highest standards in our efforts to become open-minded leaders, effective communicators, and considerate team players. The primary purpose of our organization is to aid the University in the recruitment of potential students, to assist in the orientation of new students and parents, and to advise all students and parents on the rules, regulations, traditions, resources and different aspects of University life. The secondary purpose of our organization is to promote spirit and unity among LSU students and to provide general service to the LSU community.

How we are trained:
All LSU Associate Ambassadors must complete approximately 25 hours of training before they become LSU Ambassadors. Training includes but is not limited to:

- Instruction on how to give a thorough campus tour including information on campus history and traditions
- In depth information on services at LSU available to students and LSU academic policies and procedures

MISSION
To provide first-year and transfer students with a comprehensive orientation program offered by the Office of Orientation. The program will offer incoming students an opportunity to take placement exams, earn college credit, schedule first semester classes with the assistance of academic advisors and orientation leaders and become oriented to campus life at LSU.
