

GETTING READY FOR SUMMER 2018 AND BEYOND

Summer 2018

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

University College is dedicated to students achieving excellence at LSU. Academic and personal success is the hallmark of a well-rounded student, and University College provides a foundation of support services for students beginning their academic careers at LSU. University College has served as the portal of entry for most incoming freshmen enrolling at LSU. It also serves many returning students and transfer students who are not yet eligible for admission to a degree-granting senior college on campus. The two enrollment divisions of University College are The Center for Freshman Year and The Center for Advising and Counseling.

Summer Term News Movements to Senior Colleges

UCFY students who have successfully completed their senior college admission requirements will be moved from UCFY to the appropriate senior college during three separate moves over the summer months.

The first move involves those students who met the senior college requirements and are enrolled in summer school. The second move occurs for students who did not enroll in summer school and have met their requirements at the end of the spring semester.

The third move occurs for summer term students who at the end of the summer term will have met the senior college requirements.

In most instances, these moves are in an automated process with no action needed by the students. However, there are a few instances in which the student must make a formal application to a senior college (Mass Communication majors, Art and Design Majors, and General Business majors – these students will be notified as to the procedures for admission to these colleges).

Summer Requests for Grade Exclusion Policy

In order to take advantage of the Grade Exclusion Policy for courses students are repeating during the summer term, there is a strict deadline to be granted this privilege. That deadline is June 7, 2018 by 4:30 p.m. Approvals for grade exclusion must be completed with an academic counselor. UCFY students should see a counselor in 150 Allen Hall. If enrolled in UCAC, the student should see a counselor in 150 Himes Hall. If students have been admitted to a senior college, then a counselor in the appropriate senior college office must execute the grade exclusion.

Questions about these issues can be directed to our University College staff at 225-578-6822.
