Mission, Vision, and Values
September 2015

Mission

The Division of Finance & Administration (F&A) has, as its primary responsibility, the stewardship, safety, and enhancement of the University's financial, physical, human, and information resources. The Division exists to serve and support the University's mission of instruction, research, and public service. F&A is committed to supporting and facilitating the University's goals.

Vision

F&A's vision is to be a model in higher education for how to strategically and effectively deploy University resources in fulfillment of its mission, to provide outstanding stewardship daily as we strive to assist the University community in matters of finance, operations, administration, and public safety, and to deliver the highest level of service and outcomes to the students, faculty, and staff that we serve.

Values

- We value the students, faculty, and staff whom we serve each day.
- We value the dedication and commitment of F&A staff in enhancing the LSU experience for all.
- We value our relationships across the University and our commitment to excellent customer service.
- We value the accuracy and integrity of our information and data.
- We value a safe and secure environment for the University community.
- We value the integrity with which we operate knowing the trust placed upon us by the University, the Board of Supervisors, and the people of Louisiana.
