SUPPLIER DIVERSITY & THE BIDDING PROCESS
University procedures require departments to include a set number of diverse suppliers in all solicitations. The minimum number of diverse suppliers solicited varies based on the amount of the purchase. Majority of the solicitations issued by LSU are informal and done through the Request for Quote process. These are sent via fax or email to a list of bidders identified by the departments or Procurement Services. Departments should refer to the Find Suppliers by Classification Type report in Workday to locate active suppliers with certified business classifications and the supplier group(s) to identify potential sources for quotes/bids. If none registered in our database, departments are to contact the Supplier Diversity office for supplier recommendations.

CAMPUS SUSTAINABILITY

- Congratulations, Tigers! LSU won 2nd place in the national GameDay Recycling Challenge. LSU diverted a total of 58.4 tons from the landfill—a university record for the LSU vs. Alabama football game—a 3.4 tons less than Clemson, who won first place with 61.8 tons. LSU was national champion in 2015 & 2016. Thank you to all of the Tiger fans who recycled and the student volunteers who worked for hours on a rainy, cold Sunday to pick up additional recycling material!

- Super Fly—Next month, LSU will begin a pilot project to compost post-consumer food waste from the 459 Dining Hall. Campus Sustainability is partnering with the Entomology Department to use black soldier flies to compost the food waste. If the pilot is successful, the plan is to expand food waste composting to all LSU Dining Halls.

- For the Birds—In October 2018, Campus Sustainability designed and hosted recycling-focused activities for the University Lab School 2nd graders, including a recycling relay race and a “make your own bird feeder” using discarded plastic bottles.

- Future’s So Bright—Campus Sustainability and Property Management are planning another E-Waste Recycling Event this spring.

- Spring Greening Day & Sustainability Expo and the launch of new Zero Waste Event program coming soon! Follow us on social media to get the latest sustainability news:

Need the LSU Trolley for your Event?
The LSU trolley has a passenger capacity of 26 seated passengers plus one wheelchair, or 24 seated passengers and 2 wheelchairs and is 32’ long. It also boasts an authentic interior, true to the original style of trolleys with gong bell and pull handles and passenger stop requests with lights and pull cords. The vintage style seats with oak slats gives the trolley that unique look on the inside, while the trolley has been specially painted purple and gold on the outside.

The LSU trolley is a first come, first service transportation option and can be reserved through the Parking & Transportation website at www.lsu.edu/parking. The cost associated with renting will be $115/hour with a 4 hour minimum. Please contact us at 225-578-5000 to learn more information on booking the trolley for your upcoming event. We look forward to working with you! Geaux Tigers!
The purpose of this plan is to provide improved, sustainable, and safer mobility options that are more convenient, affordable, reliable, and accessible and to be the blueprint for building a modern and innovative walking, biking, transit, and multi-modal network utilizing a “complete streets” concept that allows all forms of transportation to co-exist along the roadway system,” said Roger Husser, Assistant Vice President of Planning, Design, and Construction. With bikeshare arriving on campus in April 2019, improved bike lanes are a top priority in the plan with micro-transit options, on-demand services, transportation apps, and improved parking access with more options at various pricing levels also on the table.

FACILITY & PROPERTY OVERSIGHT

Facility & Property Oversight staff “adopted” families for Christmas. The department chooses families with young children from the surrounding community who through a major catastrophic event in their lives are unable to provide Christmas gifts for their kids. Staff collect donations, purchase and wrap gifts, and deliver them to the adults to be put under the tree on Christmas Eve.

This year, F&PO collected a record breaking $1,980, with employees also donating toys, clothes, shoes, and gift cards for the children. Jeremy Crawford, a new F&PO staff member, brought an entire truck load of toys for the kids to honor his father, Ben Crawford, who passed away on December 3. His dad loved kids and Christmas, so Jeremy donated the toys to honor the memory of his dad. Thanks to the kindness and generosity of employees, six children woke up Christmas morning to find presents under the tree from Santa and a Christmas dinner.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SERVICES

For the past six months, the Data Governance Working Group has been working on a framework for establishing information governance at LSU. The Working Group, composed of members from each LSU institution, has examined the LSU strategy and business drivers to craft business and data principles that form the basis of information governance. In turn, the Working Group has drafted an information governance framework, three procedural documents and a standard that defines the types of information to be governed. As a next step the Working Group will seek approval to launch the governance framework that will draft an information strategy.
