MAKE AN IMPACT

LSU’s land-, sea-, and space-grant research designations allow our community of scholars to go above, below, and beyond to make discoveries that impact every corner of the world.

As an LSU student, you will have the opportunity to engage with world-class professors who are developing new antibiotics, exploring new cancer treatments, innovating cybersecurity and artificial intelligence, tackling mental illness, preventing childhood obesity, ending Alzheimer’s disease, limiting hurricane damage, and doubling oyster production.

LSU is an elite and historic university with a reputation for excellence. Beginning on day one, you will interact with an extraordinary number of distinguished scholars who win prestigious national awards such as the:

- Nobel Prize
- Pulitzer Prize
- MacArthur Genius Award
- Marshall Scholarship
- Goldwater Scholarship
- Truman Scholarship
- Gates Cambridge Scholarship

LSU is at the forefront of coastal resilience, creating solutions to coastal land loss, flooding, sea-level rise, and other environmental challenges. At the Center for River Studies, the state-of-the-art Lower Mississippi River Physical Model gives scientists, engineers, and students the opportunity to replicate the flow, water levels, and sediment (sand) transport of the river, where one year of activity along the Mississippi River is simulated in one hour.

AN LSU DEGREE MEANS MORE

With access to Nobel prize-winning professors, state-of-the-art research facilities, and breathtaking views between classes, attending a nationally ranked university like LSU means more. More opportunity. More connections. And a higher salary. LSU graduates earn $20,000 more per year than the national average.

SCHOLARSHIP FIRST

LSU's fierce drive for excellence is rooted in our mission to impact and serve—addressing critical problems through groundbreaking research and discovery, and bettering the lives of citizens across our region. Louisiana is at the center of many of our nation's core challenges and opportunities because of our geography, culture, and economy. LSU—through the collaborative teamwork of all of our campuses—creates solutions essential to the future of our state and nation. Our vision is aspirational, and we embrace the responsibility of ascending to our potential. In service to our state, LSU is committed to achieving excellence in all areas—for our students' success and to elevate our region for the benefit of all.

INTERNSHIPS EVERY SEMESTER

A benefit of being in a metropolitan area is access to year-round internships at international, regional, and local organizations. Gaining valuable real-world experience in between classes can only be found in a top U.S. city like Baton Rouge.

AWARD-WINNING SUPPORT AND MENTORSHIP

Guiding you along your path to graduation is a top priority for our staff, and that support begins on day one. Every freshman at LSU is assigned a Student Success Team made up of five professional staff and one peer mentor who are committed to personally assisting you throughout your academic journey.

SET FOR SUCCESS

The Olinde Career Center connects students with employers through interviews, career fairs, and an online job portal open only to LSU students. Many global companies recruit for positions exclusively at LSU.
