1947 Revised Edition

Petrouchka is one of the most colorful ballets ever written. The beginning should be very purposeful, with strong, hard tonguing, a steely sound, and impeccable rhythm.

Errata:
- In the 4th measure of [1], the second beat should have the rhythm eighth-sixteenth, identical to the first beat of the ballet.
- In the 5th measure of [1], the first B needs a natural sign.
- In the 1st measure of [5] and the 3rd measure of [6], the last two eighth notes should have a slur above the staccato dots.

In the passage from [3] until the end of the excerpt, I have used a trill fingering for the triplet B♭-C-B♭ configuration that occurs six times. It is indicated below:

Excerpt No. 3 - Sergei Prokofiev, Peter and the Wolf

These solos are wonderfully descriptive. Play them with great character and personality, as the flute represents Prokofiev’s image of a bird. The technical challenges can best be overcome if you don’t play in a forced, hard, hysterical style. Try to think of the brilliance coming from light, firm technique and controlled bravura.

Published tempo: Andantino $j = 92$, Allegro $j = 176$

Erratum:
• One bar before [3] and one bar before [4], the slur continues through into the high G on beat 3.
