SEPT. 24-25, 2019

COMPOSTING FOR PRODUCE SAFETY

A Compost Operators Workshop in Alexandria/Pineville, LA

Do you make compost on your farm? Are you interested in starting a compost business to meet the growing demand for food safety compliant compost on fruit & vegetable farms? Would you like to learn from leading researchers and from current compost producers? Join us to discover the latest in compost microbial risk reduction and small business best practices. Pre-registration is required. Limited seating.

Pre-registration is required. Limited seating.

Register Now:

Tour Cool-Planet and discover how biochar can play a role in soil fertility

Explore details of composting soil amendments of animal origin

Learn the latest in managing compost for on-farm food safety

Hands on activities and resources to help you grow plus resources for business startups

$75 per person / $40 per student or grower

Includes course materials, refreshments and lunch on both days

QUESTIONS?
Contact: Achyut Adhikari (ACAdhikari@agcenter.lsu.edu) 225-578-2529
OR
Bahia Nightengale (bnightengale@cenla.org) 318-441-3408

Workshop Location: Main Street Community Center • 708 Main St, Pineville, LA 71360

Funding for this training is supported by the Food and Drug Administration through PAR-16-137 and the USDA-LDAF Specialty Crop Block Grant Program.