

2018 University of Wyoming Archaeological Field School in Peru Callacpuma Archaeological Project

June 16th - July 21st
2018

Location - Cajamarca, Peru
Dates - June 16 – July 21, 2018
Approximate cost - $3600.00
Academic credits (UW) - 6

Project Description

Callacpuma (~1000B.C.-A.D. 1532) is a large multi-component site with public architecture, households, caves, and rock art. Participants will survey, map and excavate architectural contexts, as well as record the rock art. Students will live in nearby Baños del Inca, a town known for its thermal hot springs, and explore the colonial city of Cajamarca (5km from Baños del Inca).

For information, visit www.yanaorco.org
or contact Dr. Jason Toohey (jtoohey2@uwyo.edu)
or Dr. Melissa S. Murphy (mmurph20@uwyo.edu)

