LSU Internationalization Grants
LSU International Programs/Office of Academic Affairs

Purpose: LSU Internationalization Grants were created to provide seed funding for faculty who promote cultural adeptness and global engagement of LSU. These small grants support innovative international teaching/research/service programs abroad, international travel, language study, and internationally focused workshops, conferences, performances, and literary symposia/colloquium. Grants may involve assistance of undergraduate and graduate students. It is strongly encouraged to propose activities that lead to international student recruitment, study abroad participation, exploring international collaboration, developing innovative international strategic partnerships in any field of international education. Participation of international collaborators is expected.
