

JAMES E. SHELLY III

RESUME

Manship School
of Mass Communication
Louisiana State University
Baton Rouge, La 70803
225.578.3984 (work)

jes@utahweb.com
jes@lsu.edu

Media Experience

Director of Student Media, Louisiana State University (2005-2010)
Book author, co-wrote four books published by Wharton School Publishing, LSU Press, or Pearson (2004-present)
Assisted with the development of professional standards for Yemeni Journalists Syndicate (2008).
USAID training program for investigative reporters from Kosovo (summer 2005)
Editor, Associated Press Managing Editors conference Gazette (2006, 2007, 2008)
Editor, The Salt Lake Tribune (1991-2003)
Board member, Newspaper Agency Corp. (1996-2000)
Editor and publisher, Moscow (Idaho)-Pullman (Wash.) Daily News (1981-1991)
Executive editor, Lewiston (Idaho) Morning Tribune (1977-1981)
Capitol bureau reporter, Lewiston (Idaho) Morning Tribune (1973-1977)
Reporter, The Associated Press (1971-1972)
Reporter/copy desk editor, Spokane (Wash.) Spokesman-Review (1963-1966)
(worked fulltime while attending Gonzaga University)
Reporter, Yuma (Ariz.) Daily Sun (summers 1962/63)

Academic Experience

Fred Jones Greer Professorship, Professional in Residence, Louisiana State University,
Manship School of Mass Communication, (2005-present)
Dean's search committee, Manship School of Mass Communication (2011)
Search committee for Manship Chair and two graduate faculty positions (2008-present)
Numerous political and journalism panels (1977-present)
TIAF undergraduate teacher of year (2007)
Utah State University, visiting professional for post-graduate seminar on media and politics (2003)
Visiting professional lecturer, DePauw University (2003)
Utah State Bar mock trial coach (1999-2005)
Volunteer, schools at risk, Salt Lake (Utah) School District (1996-2002)
Adjunct journalism instructor, Weber State University, Boise State University, University of Idaho, Washington State University
(1975, 1977, 1980, 1993) and Bishop Kelly High School, Boise (1971-1972)
Kootenai (ID) High School history, government, Spanish, journalism teacher (1967-1971); athletic director and head basketball and head baseball coach (1969-1971)
Mater Cleri H.S., parttime basketball coach and physical education teacher, 1965-66)

Other Work Experience

Moderator, KWSU-TV (PBS affiliate) weekly issues program (mid-1980s)
Campaign manager, William E. Davis U.S. Senate Campaign (1972)
High school/college basketball referee (1974-1983)
Deputy sheriff, Kootenai County Sheriff's Office (summers 1968, 1969)
Brakeman, Milwaukee Railroad (summer 1967)

Education

B.A., Journalism, Gonzaga University (1966)
Law school (no degree), University of Idaho (1983-84)

Memberships (current and past)

Founding Member, Pacific Council for International Policy
American Society of Newspaper Editors
Associated Press Managing Editors Association
Utah-Idaho-Spokane Associated Press Association

Past Boards

Utah Chapter, American Red Cross (2004-2005)
Board of Visitors, Manship School of Mass Communication (1992-2005)
Utah Alliance for Unity (2001-2005)
Newspaper Agency Corporation Board of Directors (1997-2000)
Salt Lake YWCA Community Advisory Board (1994-1997)
Idaho Lottery Commission (1988-1991)
Juror for Pulitzer Prizes (1988, 1989)
President, Utah-Idaho-Spokane Associated Press Assn. (1986)
Board of Directors, New Directions for News (1984-1989)
Associated Press national audit committee (1982-86)
Idaho Governor's Task Force for Education Reform (1981-82)
Board of Directors, Investigative Reporters & Editors (IRE) (1976-1988)

Awards

The usual assortment of journalistic and civic honors, too numerous and, ultimately, inconsequential to list.

Personal

Family: Spouse Susan E. Thomas
Son Ian Whitaker Shelledy (graduate school Colorado State University)
Personal interests: golf, sailing, history, writing, public speaking, volunteering